

Managing sensitive personal data in research

Organized by Data Stewards at the University of Bern (UniBE) jointly with a member of the Open Science Services from University of Zurich (UZH) and Data Stewardship Program coordinators from the University of Basel (UniBas).

Date: Monday, 4 November 2024

Time: 9:00-17:00 h

Place: 3012 Bern, Hochschulstrasse 4, Kuppelraum / room 501

Program:

Time	Speaker	Affiliation	Title
9:00-9:15	Dirk Verdicchio	University of Bern University Library Open Science, Research Data Management	Welcome and introduction
9:15-9:20	Christine Krebs	University of Bern University Library Open Science, Research Data Management	Research Data Management Support on sensitive data at the UniBE
9:20-9:25	Melanie Röthlisberger	University of Zürich University Library Open Science Services	Research Data Management Support on sensitive data at the UZH
9:25-9:30	Iris Lindenmann	University of Basel University Library Open Science Services	Research Data Management Support on sensitive data at the UniBas
Experts' talks
9:30-10:00	Claudia Becherer	University of Basel Department of Clinical Research, Regulatory Affairs	The Human Research Act - Introduction to the legal basis for research in Switzerland
10:00-10:30	Simone Mäder	University of Basel Data Protection Officer	Sensitive personal data in research: Data protection framework and strategies
10:30-11:00	Coffee / Tee break
11:00-11:30	Matthias Templ	Swiss Data Anonymization Competence Center	Anonymization of tabular data and SwissAnon
11:30-12:00	Thierry Sengstag	University of Basel sciCORE	Long-term archiving of sensitive data
12:00-12:30	Discussion

12:30-14:00	Lunch
Use-cases
14:00-14:30	Irene Centeno Ramos and Paulina Brönnimann	Institute of Tissue Medicine and Pathology, UniBE	Research with sensitive data – perspective of a biobank in Bern
14:30-15:00	Waldo Valenzuela	University Hospital Bern - Neurocenter	Neuro-informatic Group and Medical-Blocks: A Platform for Exploration, Management, Analysis, and Sharing of Data in Biomedical Research
15:00-15:30	Coffee / Tee break
15:30-16:00	Gwynne Erin Mapes	University of Bern, Institute of English Languages and Literatures, UniBE	Research in Elite Educational Contexts: The Ethics and Challenges of 'Studying Up
16:00-16:30	Mykola Makhortykh	University of Bern, Institute of Communication and Media Studies	Fifty shades of filters: Dealing with the sensitivities of online behavior tracking data
16:30-17:00	Discussion
17:00	Closing remarks. End of the event

Session's moderators:

University of Bern: Martin Wegmann, Olga Churakova, Christine Krebs

University of Basel: Iris Lindenmann, Loredana Martignetti

University of Zürich: Melanie Röthlisberger

Organizing Committee:

The University of Bern, the University of Basel, and the University of Zürich